As a logistics coordinator, you would be responsible for the planning and execution of all logistics-related activities prior to the Summit, and on both days of the Summit. This includes conducting searches and making bookings for the most cost-effective flights and hotels, as well as the supporting the visa application process of speakers and coordinating transportation, including airport transfers. You would be also be responsible for the preparation of sponsor/partner stalls as well as the stage, and expected to work closely with speaker coordinators.

Key Abilities of Applicant

- Possesses a good knowledge of (African) countries
- Excellent time management and organisation skills
- Excellent communication skills
- Team player
- Flexibility and proactiveness
- Ability to perform under pressure and in a fast paced environment
- Experienced traveller - familiar with the process of booking flights and acquiring visas
- Ability to think independently

Why should you apply?

- Be part of an engaged and ambitious team
- Develop your event planning and project management skills
- Develop your leadership and communication skills
- Network opportunities within the LSE and beyond
- You will also have the opportunity to engage with pioneering business and/or research personalities working in and on Africa

Please submit your CV and a short cover email outlining your suitability for the Summit and the role to africasummit.speakers@lse.ac.uk by 20th August 2019.

Thank you for your interest. We look forward to hearing from you!

NB: We would like to stress that this is a demanding role and whoever is applying for this must be committed and dedicated to the summit and the workload attached to this role. As we are all students and have our academics to focus on, it is important that the candidate is aware of the time demand for this role and must be able to effectively manage his/her time so that neither the summit nor academics negatively impact on the other.
